UK PROPERTY:

The Proven Investment in Times of Wider Uncertainty

The investment strengths of real estate have never been as important as they are right now.

UK property has a long, credible record of resilience and stability in times of wider economic upheaval.

While other markets fluctuate, UK real estate continues to deliver growth for its investors.

Pent-Up Property Demand Breaks Records

As the UK re-emerged from lockdown, lenders and agents reported huge surges in interest from property buyers and renters:

Halifax's pricing index showed that the price of a typical UK property in June 2020 was 2.5% higher than in June 2019²

Zoopla, one of the UK's largest online property portals, reported "off-the-scale" levels of pent up demand in June 2020 from its customers, with sales rising 137% since the property market reopened³

Furthermore, the UK rental market also experienced a resurgence – new rental agreements stayed above 2019 averages for all but six days of the month⁴

4 Core Strengths of Investing in Property

Long-term growth

Case Study: UK Property After 2008/09 Global Financial Recession

Between 2004 and 2018, it was investors that bought UK property in 2009 – immediately after the global financial recession – that achieved the biggest returns when selling their property in 2018

On average, those buying UK real estate in 2009 made GBP 93,378 when selling their asset in 2018

This underlines the importance of purchasing with the right market conditions – and taking advantage of wider economic uncertainty¹

UK Government Makes Real Estate a Priority

Property will play an integral role in the UK government's post-COVID-19 strategy:

- Prime Minister Boris Johnson pledged to "build, build, build" as part of his new economic plan for the country⁶.
 - Some planning restrictions were eased in September, while new regulations will also allow more unused commercial buildings to be turned into residential properties
- Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rishi Sunak, announced a stamp duty land tax (SDLT) holiday for property buyers until 31st March 2021⁷
 - Increasing the tax threshold for properties under GBP 500,000 is designed to prompt more people to buy homes before the end of 2020 and into 2021

Strong 5-Year Property Price Growth Projections

Savills' latest baseline projections – updated in September 2020 – forecast positive property price growth over the next five years, as the market rebounds from COVID-19 in 2020⁵.

Build-to-Rent Apartments to Increase in Demand?

In April, Savills reported that the "coronavirus lockdown is unlikely to dampen investors' growing appetite" for the build-to-rent residential property sector⁸.

Purpose-built rental homes have become the modern city centre home of choice for millions of tenants across the UK in recent years. And as many UK tenants now refocus their accommodation priorities following life in lockdown, build-to-rent homes may now appeal to more of the country's rental population.

New Property Priorities

A Savills survey found⁹:

39%

of those aged under 50-years-old now have a desire to move to a bigger living space following lockdown.

Many build-to-rent properties offer larger living space than older rental homes.

Having greater access to outdoor space has become more important to those under the age of 40-years-old.

Build-to-rent developments typically offer communal gardens and outdoor space.

The uplift in working from home has further underlined the importance of good Wi-Fi access.

Reliable, fast-speed Wi-Fi is usually one of the most important qualities prioritised by build-to-rent developers.

If the pandemic has shown us anything, it's that the inflexible homes of yesterday may no longer be compatible with our future needs. We have re-focused and re-learned what is important, from health, wellbeing and nature, to local trade and authentic community spirit. All of which feeds back into this idea that Build to Rent is – and will always be – about creating a community that residents buy into, build upon and don't want to leave.”¹⁰

Why UK Property Will Work for You

Here's why UK property – among the world's most trusted and mature real estate markets – is one of the strongest investments you can make:

Politically Stable

Property prices have a significant impact on the UK's national wealth. This means the government takes steps to maintain growth in the property market.

History of Growth

Average house prices in the UK have increased by 300% since 1999¹¹.

Protective Legal Framework

UK law offers a clear, comprehensive framework that offers a greater level of protection than other popular international property markets.

Performance Determined by Supply and Demand

Returns from UK property, unlike equities and commodities markets, are determined by supply and demand levels. In England alone, 300,000 new homes are needed each year just to meet demand¹².

A Rental Market That Continues to Expand

As more people in the UK actively choose to rent, this is now one of the best investment opportunities for a generation:

- Over one third of those born between 1980-1996 will now rent their entire lives¹³
- Over 40% will still be renting by age 30; that's twice as many as their parents' generation
- Demand for rental property will reach six million by 2025¹⁴
- But, just 100,000 purpose-built rental properties are currently in the delivery pipeline nationwide¹⁵

Manchester:

A High Growth, High Demand Investment Location

A city that's attracting investment from across the world.

Take just one look at the many cranes that are redrawing Manchester's skyline right now and you realise that this is a city that's growing.

A city with a young, expanding population. Home to elite universities and world-famous football clubs. A city with a first-class infrastructure, home to some of the UK's biggest companies and the world's largest multinationals. A city with big plans for the future.

It's also a city with one of the most in-demand – and undersupplied – property markets in the UK.

This is just the start of the growth cycle. With projections forecasting Manchester and the North West to drive UK price growth in the next five years and beyond, everything is in place for the city to remain one of the strongest places to buy property in the UK and Europe.

All that is missing is you.

Manchester is the UK's third busiest airport, carrying close to 30 million passengers per year¹⁷, with 54 airlines flying direct to over 200 destinations worldwide

A City To Drive National Economic Growth

Council Leaders to Prioritise Manchester's Property Development Sector

A report published by Manchester City Council described continued development in the city as "essential" in Manchester's economic strategy in the coming years¹⁸:

- Key focus on "sustaining confidence" in Manchester's commercial and residential property development sectors
- Prioritising planning permission for those developments that have a focus on 'placemaking'
- Maintaining the significant level of global property investment that has been recorded in recent years "is an essential element of effective and sustainable recovery"

Commercial Investors to Leave London and Head to Manchester?

Research from Savills has predicted that commercial office space in regional cities such as Manchester may soon become more appealing to global buyers than London¹⁹.

“Some corporate occupiers might be more likely to adopt 'hub and spoke' office networks, with greater presences in regional cities to capture new young workers coming out through local universities who don't want to pay London's inflated cost of living. This again strengthens the regional office outlook beyond 2020.”

MAT OAKLEY,
Director of Commercial Research at Savills

The Economic Powerhouse of the North

Growth that's being felt across all sectors of industry in the city.

Manchester is the UK's leading regional hub. Voted Britain's best city outside of London for business²⁰.

It's a city recognised across Europe for its expertise in the fields of research, engineering, manufacturing and digital technology.

Average annual gross value added (GVA) for the UK and European Union averages 1.7% and 1.2-1.4% respectively. In Manchester, GVA grows by that amount each quarter²¹.

It's a city that's thriving. And there is little to suggest that this growth will slow down anytime soon.

“Manchester is home to the largest number of foreign direct investment projects of any UK city outside London.”²²

A Fast-Expanding Economy

- Manchester's economy grows at a faster rate than the UK as a whole²³
 - And is larger than the economies of both Wales and Northern Ireland²⁴
- 16,300 new jobs to be created by 2021, the fastest growth in the UK²⁵
- 50% graduate retention rate from Manchester's universities, adding new workers to the city's workforce each year²⁶

An Increasingly Young City Centre Population

- The population of the city centre has grown by 57,000 in just 19 years (2001-2020)²⁷
- Over 100,000 people will be living in the city in 5 years' time
 - Since 2004, the number of people living in Deansgate and Piccadilly, the two most central council wards, has risen by 185%²⁸
- Manchester has the third youngest median age (30.1-years-old) of any local population in the UK²⁹

NO.1

Manchester is ranked as the number 1 city to live in the UK by the The Economist's 'Global Liveability Index' – a title it's held each year since 2011³⁰

- GBP 1.5 billion upgrade of Manchester's cycle and pedestrian walkways³⁶
- 75 miles of segregated cycle lanes to create the UK's biggest cycling and walking network
- Aims to reduce congestion and emissions on busy Manchester city centre routes

“Manchester is one of the world's greatest and most inspirational cities. The ten local authorities of Greater Manchester represent the largest functional economic area outside London.

It is a world-class business and investment location with all the benefits and attractions of a vibrant European metropolis and recently hailed as one of the best cities to live in.”³³

One of Europe's Premier Property Investment Markets

All this economic growth is having a direct impact on Manchester's real estate sector.

Quite simply, property supply in the city cannot keep pace with rising demand.

As new jobs are created – and more people move here to live and work – the need for property outstrips current supply levels.

Market indications suggest this growth is only just beginning.

The time to invest is now.

Manchester's Property Undersupply

- The city's population is rising at 15 times the rate new homes are currently being built at³⁷
- Manchester city centre needs 2,500 new residential homes each year just to meet current demand³⁸
- Over the last 10 years, just 1,150 new properties have been delivered each year

Performance That's Exceeding London

London has one of the slowest rates of property growth in the UK. Naturally, global investors looking for high yields and returns from their UK investment are turning to Manchester, instead:

- In 2019, the average price of property in central London was GBP 1.55 million⁴⁰
 - Manchester city centre's average price was GBP 214,881
- Year-on-year property growth for London in August 2019 was just 0.2%⁴¹
 - Prices in Manchester increased 4.5% during the same period
- Yield growth in London is now among the slowest in the country
 - Property in Manchester is generating a 69% higher average yield than London's boroughs combined⁴²

“ Manchester currently has the greatest dynamism and momentum in attracting Chinese buyers. It has gained buyer share quickly, while London has not.”⁴³

IN FOCUS:

Manchester's Private Rented Sector

It's one of the UK's fastest growing property sectors.

And there's nowhere in the UK quite like Manchester when it comes to the growth in the number of tenants demanding homes in the private rented sector.

Nearly 70,000 people now live in Manchester city centre – and most rent their apartments⁴⁴.

But supply of rental properties cannot keep up. Recent data from Zoopla suggests that there is now a significant undersupply of rental property in the city, with a ratio of demand to supply of 5:1⁴⁵.

For investors, the opportunity to capitalise from this growth sector has never been more urgent.

Housing Tenures by Sector in Manchester⁴⁶

Demand Driven by the City's Young Tenants

- Over 20% of residents living in Manchester are less than 30-years-old – a key demographic for the rental market⁴⁷
- Nationally, the majority of people who live in the private rented sector are under the age of 35. The average proportion of under-35-year-olds in the private rented sector in England and Wales is 45%
- But, in Manchester, this share rises to 51%
- 60% of people under the age of 24 living in Greater Manchester live in private rental property, and just under 40% of those aged 25-34

“Manchester is therefore undersupplied in respect of good quality and well-located residential schemes.”⁴⁸

What Our Investors Say

I have been dealing with Select Property Group since 2016. I have invested with them in UK and Dubai and they have been absolutely spot on, with their advice and support with rental payments. I personally would not hesitate to recommend them for anyone looking for a safe, reliable real estate outfit.”

FAHAD S,

Saudi Arabia-based investor

Great company! Professional team. Just amazing experience. They are always in contact to help you. Really recommend dealing with them.”

ANTON K,

UK-based investor

Very positive experiences with this company over a number of years. Prompt and efficient responses to any query. Professional approach.”

JENNIFER H,

UK-based investor

Fantastic customer service, always willing to assist. From the start of the sign-up process, I was always kept informed of progress with the construction period and thereafter. The returns were much better than what I was getting anywhere; I ended up buying three units in total. Great investment with almost nil effort from my side on an ongoing basis.”

DIPEN S,

Kenya-based investor
